"BIG FOUR" JOBS.

Washington Wonders What Kansans Will Get Them.

Washington, Nov. 24.—There is manifestly much interest shown among the Kansans contingent in Washington regarding the "Big Four" federal appointments in Kansas, which will within a few months be shaped up by the Kansas senators, or rather after the Kansas legislature names a successor to Senator Chester L. Long.

United States District Attorney Harry J. Bone will end his term of office in December, 1909. This will be the first appointment to be considered. Closely following will come the appointments of a pension agent at Topeka to succeed Colonel Wilder S. Metcalf, and collector of internal revenues to succeed James M. Simpson. The terms of both these officials end in January, 1910. United States Marshal William H. Mackey will have his successor named in December, 1910, when his service expires.

As Bone, Simpson and Mackey are known to be personal appointees of Senator Long and were devoted to him in his recent campaign, it is supposed that none of them will be considered for reappointment by Senator Curtis and his to-be-colleague, Mr. Bristow. Not even a hint or suggestion has been ventured by members of the Kansas delegation now in Washington as to who may be considered for either of these appointments. There is belief expressed, however, that Colonel Metcalf can have the pension agent appointment for a third term if he desires it.

While there has been some little difference in past years between Curtis and Bristow, it is confidently believed here by their friends that they will work harmoniously together in the senate in all matters of vital interest to Kansas, and that Kansas appointments will hereafter be settled without strife. Under such conditions they would make probably the strongest "team" that Kansas has ever sent to the United States senate. Both have ideal records as public officials.

James G. Roberts, business man of Kansas City, Kan., who is at the Raleigh hotel, said last night the election of Mr. Stubbs as governor for Kansas put the saloons in the state out of business.

"Wholesale liquor houses and breweries of other states," said Mr. Roberts, "have abandoned temporarily their fight for open saloons in Kansas, and are quietly removing all their bar fixtures and saloon paraphernalia from the state. For nearly three years now they have been in a running fight with the state administration, and have lost ground steadily."

"The recent state election was the final blow. They linked their fortunes with the Democratic party, and lost. The new Republican governor served notice that he will continue the warfare until every saloon and joint is driven from the state, or 'into the Missouri river,' as he puts it."

"For many years the prohibitory law," continued Mr. Roberts, "was a dead letter in about twenty-five counties of the state. Many of the large towns had just as fine saloons as Kansas City, Mo., and they were run as openly. The cities tolerated them because of the revenue received in the way of monthly fines through the police courts. The violation of the law reached such perfection that the saloonkeepers even quit going to court; they simply sent in their monthly fines by messenger. That's all changed now; the public sentiment is backing up the new governor in his decision to clear the state of the saloons, and he is going to do it."

It was recently reported in Kansas that L. A. Sears, a former citizen of Douglas county, Kan., but now of Chillicothe, O., had been elected to congress from the Democratic ticket, to succeed Congressman Albert Douglas, Republican. Early returns showed doubt in the result of the contest, but later it developed that Douglas was re-elected by a small majority.

Mr. Sears is a member of the Ohio legislature, having served in the house for two terms, and is considered one of the coming young men of his section. He will, it is understood, renew his efforts to enter congress two years hence.

The Sears family removed from Kansas to Ohio nearly twenty years ago, locating at Chillicothe, where they engaged in the cannery business. Today they own and operate four factories, three in Ohio and one at Pentwater, Mich. The latter institution is managed by W. H. Sears, who for many years has been a resident of Lawrence, where he engaged in the practice of law and figured conspicuously in politics during the Democratic and Populist reign. During the Leedy administration he was appointed adjutant general of the Kansas national guard, and later acted as private secretary to United States Senator W. A. Harris. His wife and son, Burton, still reside in Lawrence, where the latter is attending the State university.

THE DEADLY INJUNCTION.

Will Be Used to Try and Stop Papke-Kelly Fight.

San Francisco, Nov. 24.—John Gleason, manager of the Occidental Athletic association, applied to Superior Judge Seawell today for an injunction to prevent the Papke-Ketchell fight scheduled to be held at Croft's arena on Thanksgiving day. In his application Gleason alleges Billy Papke and Stanley Ketchell signed an agreement on September 30 last to fight under the auspices of the Occidental Athletic association on the evening of November 25. Subsequent to this it is alleged that Croft persuaded the men to break their agreement and sign a contract to fight before the Sunshine club.

"What's the Use?" Gallipolis, O., Nov. 24.—Dr. O. S. Mills, house physician at the Columbus insane asylum, left his bed in a hotel here early today and going to the city park shot himself dead. He left a note that read: "What's the use?"

SNAPSHOTS

Skating every afternoon and night. Two city commissioners from El Paso, Texas, were visitors at Mayor Green's office this morning.

The election of a captain of the Washburn football team for 1909 will be held in the Washburn chapel, Saturday morning, December 5.

W. G. McDowell, of the McDowell sugar plant in St. Joseph, was in Topeka Monday making arrangements to open the company's office in this city.

The Washburn football team is working hard in an effort to retrieve lost honors by defeating the Oklahoma university team in the game Thanksgiving afternoon.

The street cleaning force was robbed of a good week's work by the down-pour of rain Monday afternoon. All the pavements in the city are in excellent condition today.

The Washington Glee club is planning a trip to California over the Santa Fe and under the auspices of this road. The glee club is working hard preparatory to making its debut in Topeka next month.

Rev. Charles M. Sheldon will deliver an illustrated lecture at the Central Congregational church Friday evening, December 4. His subject will be "Norway," and will tell of his recent travels in that country.

The Kansas Editorial association will meet in Topeka Monday and Tuesday, February 8 and 9. President E. P. Ripley of the Santa Fe will be invited to make an address on the railroad's side of the railroad question. It is not known whether he will accept or not.

In special session last night the city council let the contract to the Central railway company for raising the grade of their tracks on Madison street for the sum of $532, providing that if the cost of the work was less than that sum the price was to be reduced in that amount.

At the annual parish meeting of Grace cathedral held Monday evening, November 23, the following named gentlemen were elected vestrymen for the ensuing year: James Moore, W. N. West, D. W. Neills, E. W. Thompson, H. C. Kibbee, Henry Scandrett, A. Zahner, E. A. Herbst, Earl C. Williams.

A petition has been filed by the East Sixth avenue property owners in which they ask the council to see to it that the street railway company make their permanent improvements on this street. It will not have to be torn up at once by the aforesaid railway company.

This city is to be included in the itinerary of the short tour now being made by Madame Nazimova, the Russian actress, who has been a sensation of New York and Boston for the past two years. Few players have been so widely advertised and photographed as this beautiful foreigner who mastered English in six months and who has played Ibsen for two seasons at the Bijou theater. Her engagement here takes place this month.

The opening day of the federal court in this city of the cases of public interest were disposed of in a very short time. The Arnold-Packard breach of promise suit was compromised. The twenty-eight hour cases against the Missouri Pacific, Santa Fe and Rock Island railroads were settled by these three roads pleading guilty and paying fines on each of sixteen counts. The cases against the Frisco and Katy roads were continued, as was also the Crawford theater insurance case and the L. H. Perkins insurance case. About fifty lawyers are present in court on business at the first day's session of the term.

Legs Cut Off by Train. Salina, Kan., Nov. 24.—Fae Mercer of Hill City had both legs cut off while attempting to jump from a moving Union Pacific freight train in this city. He slipped and fell under the wheels. He was in a critical condition when taken to the hospital and will probably die.

WAS DELIRIOUS WITH ECZEMA

On Chest, Back, and Head—Pain, Heat, and Tingling Were Excruciating—Nerves in Exhausted Condition—Sleep Badly Broken.

CURE BY CUTICURA SEEMED LIKE MAGIC

"Words cannot express the gratitude I feel for what Cuticura Remedies have done for my daughter, Adelaide. She is fifteen years of age, and had never had anything the matter with her skin before a few months ago, when an eruption broke out on her chest. The first symptom was a redness, and then followed thickening and blisters, which would break and run matter. I took her to a doctor, and he pronounced it to be eczema of a very bad form. He treated her, but instead of being checked, the disease spread. It showed itself on her back, and then quick spread upwards until the whole of her head was affected, and all her hair had to be cut off. The pain she suffered from the itching and what with that and the heat and tingling her life was almost unbearable. She became run down in health, and at times was very feverish, languid and drowsy, and occasionally she was delirious. Her nerves were in such a low state that she could not bear to be in the open air, and the cold weather she would insist on having her bedroom window open, and would lean out on the window-sill. She did not sleep for many nights. The second doctor we tried advised her just as little relief as the first, and I really do not know what I should have done had I not read how Cuticura cured a similar case. I purchased Cuticura Soap, Cuticura Ointment, and Cuticura Pills, and have finished every trace of the disease was gone. It really seemed like magic. I have been on my feet and am now applying the Cuticura Ointment as I find it increases the growth wonderfully. Mrs. T. W. Hyde, 1, Orange Place, Brentwood, Essex, England, Mar. 8, 1907."

Cuticura Soap (25c.) to Cleanse the Skin, Cuticura Ointment (10c.) to Soothe and Cure, Cuticura Pills (25c.) to Purify the Blood. Sold throughout the world. Foster Drug & Chem. Corp., New York.

At the Novelty.

The Novelty management made the hit of the season when the famous Tyrolean quintette was booked as the headline act of this week's bill. This aggregation of singers certainly fulfill every advance notice and claim that is made for their work. The quintette is composed of the Otto Fischel family, who are Germans. Herr and Frau Fischel have strong voices of a pleasing quality while the three daughters have apparently inherited their father's talent. The quintette appear in Alpine costume but they sing in English as well as the German. They make their greatest hit, however, in warbling and yodeling. The entire bill at the Novelty this week is a strong one, especially the musical feature. Yorke and Crawford are a team of blackface comedians who star in singing and have a good line of new jokes which take well. Yorke has a high tenor voice while Crawford is a baritone, and their duets are pleasing. William Hamlin and Laura Roth have an interesting little act in which the petty quarrels frequently appearing in domestic life between husband and wife are acted out in an amusing manner. The Bellmontes have a stunt in Roman robes and hand-balancing which is far above the average. Last but not least is the act of the Musical Fisks, who not only play weird instruments but are good performers on the violin, tuba, and xylophone. "Some Day When Dreams Come True," and an interesting set of films on the Viascope complete an interesting programme.

CLEARS THE COMPLEXION OVERNIGHT

Pimples, Rash, Eruptions, Etc., Quickly Eradicated by New Skin Remedy.

Since its discovery one year ago, posium, the new skin remedy, has in its extraordinary accomplishments, exceeded the most sanguine expectations of the eminent specialist who gave it to the world. It has cured thousands of cases of eczema and eradicated facial and other disfigurements of years' standing. The terrible itching attending eczema is stopped with the first application, giving proof of its curative properties at the very outset.

In less serious skin affections, such as pimples, rash, herpes, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., results show after an overnight application, only a small quantity being required to effect a cure. Those who use posium for these minor skin troubles can now avail themselves of the special 50-cent package, recently adopted to meet such needs. Both the 50-cent package and the regular $2 jar may now be obtained in Topeka at Fred A. Snow's and other leading drug stores. Samples for experimental purposes may be had free of charge by writing direct to the Emergency Laboratories, 32 West Twenty-fifth street, New York city.

AMUSEMENTS.

At the Grand. There is a bit of interesting fact submerged within the fiction that comprises the new Booth Tarkington-Harry Leon Wilson play, The Man From Home, and this surrounds the character of Ivanoff, the Russian convict of the play who has managed to escape from Siberia, a political refugee, and who is supposed in the play to be making his way to the Mediterranean seaboard for the purpose of getting aboard a British ship. Ivanoff came into the play by accident. He was not included in the original scheme of things by any means, and his injection into it was the result of an automobile tour that Messrs. Tarkington and Wilson made during the spring they were writing the play. Both had been making their headquarters in Rome for some weeks, when an American friend arrived with a big touring car, and invited them to run down to Athens with him. They accepted and in the course of their ride reached Thessaly. Arriving at a small village that is known as Theogines they met the original of Ivanoff. He was Russian, and had sixteen months before made his escape from Siberia. The hardships he had undergone had left their effect upon him. Tarkington and Wilson took his case under their own supervision with the result that two days later the car arrived at a Greek seaport and the refugee sailed at 6 in the morning for Egypt. It was a week later that the character of Ivanoff was introduced into the play, then under construction. The play opens at the Grand Wednesday and will be repeated Thursday at the matinee and night performances.

Constance Skinner, in her review of "Honeycomb Trail," when it was produced at the LaSalle theater, Chicago, last season, writes as follows: "As I said before, there are a dozen or more fetching ensembles, and the whole performance moves, with a verve and spirit that tingles the nerves and sweep you, laughing, on with it." It will be the attraction at the Grand Friday night.

One of the most prominent features of Chas. H. Yale's "Everlasting Devil's Auction" and, by the way, a feature that is not now presented by any other spectacular organization, is the transformation scene. In former years a spectacular performance was not considered complete without its final scene of transformation, and for years, as in the case of the original "Black Crook," "The White Pawn," and later in David Henderson's show pieces, were spent in presenting these magnificent specimens of the scenic painter's art.

At the Majestic. The bill at the Majestic theater this week is one of the strongest bills which has been seen in this popular playhouse this season. "College Days," a one act musical farce, is featured as the headline act and is a strong number. Plenty of music with a setting that is typical of a college campus appeals to the audience throughout the act. Frederick V. Bowers is the principal actor and sings many songs of which he is the author. He is a good singer and has an exceptionally strong and pleasing voice.

Mrs. Jules Levy and family consisting of her son and daughter have an interesting musical melange, in which the piano, cornet and violin play the leading parts. Mrs. Levy is also a vocalist of no mean ability. Carl Herbert, a magician, performs feats of legerdemain and conjury with amazing skill. Clara Walters, a specialty pianist and dancer makes a great hit with the audience as does also Tom Gillen, an Irish comedian, who features as "Pinnegan's Friend."

Kid Hummel sings "The Lanky Yankee Boy in Blue." The Majestic scope pictures this week are away above par. Tonight the Washburn football team will occupy the boxes, and will be accompanied by the Oklahoma university players, should the latter arrive in time. The boxes will be fittingly decorated with pennants and other college emblems.

Lardless Cookery. Horseless carriages, wireless telegraphy, and now lardless cookery! Lard has, from time immemorial, held sway in the kitchen, but it has one fatal objection—it is indigestible. Nine-tenths of the indigestion with which the American nation is afflicted is due to the use of pork and its by-product—lard. Recognizing this, The N. K. Fairbank Company, Chicago, have placed on the market a vegetable oil cooking fat, Cottolene, which can be used in every way that lard or butter can, and which makes delicious, digestible and nourishing food. It is recommended by physicians, even to invalids, and it is cheaper than lard, one-third less being required.

Gloves for All Occasions

No one thing detracts in so marked a manner from the correct appearance of a woman's toilet as Gloves that are soiled or that are not of proper color to harmonize with the costume. It is important that proper Gloves be selected, and it is certain that selections made from our extensive assortments will give unsurpassed satisfaction.

Reynier, the Aristocrat of Glovedom

Women who wear fine Gloves know the Reynier. But perhaps they do not know that only the very aristocrats of all skins are chosen for this Glove, and that its workmanship is the most skilful and perfect example of glove-making in the world.

Made by glove artists in Grenoble, France, it is found in Topeka only at this store. Reynier Gloves are priced $1.25, $1.75 and $2.00.

English Walking Gloves

Very fashionable are the English Walking Gloves of heavy cape, fastened with one large pearl button. In white they are priced $1.50. Tans are $1.25, $1.75 and $2.25. Then there's a style that has straps at the wrist and soft gauntlets that come up over the sleeve. Tan and black, $2.00 a pair.

Short Gloves in All Colors

At $1.25 we have "wrist-length" Gloves in black, white and all colors. And at $1.75 we have them in the NEW shades for winter wear—taupe, bronze green and old rose.

Long Gloves in All Colors

For wear with costumes they will be found in soft French kid in evening shades and for street wear in kid and cape in most all colors. The 12-button length are $3.00 a pair. The 16-button are $3.50.
